FEATURES

鈎刃 -Harpoon blade-

SHACHI's signature spearhead boasts exceptional penetration power. The secret lies in its construction: entirely machined from solid stock. This process not only ensures an exceptionally sharp point but also results in a smooth surface across the entire spearhead. This smoothness minimizes resistance when piercing fish, eliminating the need to swing back forcefully. Instead, the spearhead penetrates almost solely by the weight of the spear itself. This makes aiming easier and dramatically reduces the failure rate.

The material can be selected from standard [SUS304] or the harder [CR20] (vacuum hardened + electroless nickel plating). [CR20] is a special heat-treatable stainless steel. Through hardening, it achieves a hardness that virtually eliminates the need for regrinding. Furthermore, this top-tier spearhead undergoes plating treatment for enhanced corrosion resistance.

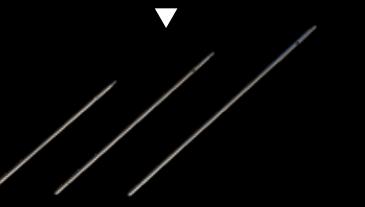

シャフト(押し棒) -Shaft-

『Material』 SUS304
The harpoon blade drop prevention mechanism eliminates the need to secure wires or ropes to the harpoon shaft (when using genuine harpoon blades). The split design allows selection from three sizes—360mm, 460mm, or 560mm—to match the target fish size.

The shaft's O-ring locks into the groove inside the spearhead, holding it in place without requiring a rope. This allows for smooth extraction even after impact.

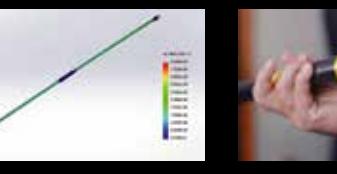

Overall length 250mm(Short-Type)
260mm(Medium-Type)
270mm(Long-Type)

鈎柄 -Harpoon handle-

Compact storage and instant deployment when needed. No worries about collapsing under pressure. Perfect for marlin and large tuna on your boat.

Strength analysis using 3D CAD. The design accommodates tuna weighing over 100 kg.

Overall length 1450mm(Short-Type)
1550mm(Medium-Type)
1650mm(Long-Type)

CONCEPT

The goal was to create a speargun that's easy to use even on pleasure boats.

Compact for excellent storage and portability, its handle isn't jointed or telescopic—it's a folding design that delivers both strength and convenience.

It unfolds with one hand, allowing you to handle unexpected big fish solo.

The spearhead boasts outstanding penetration thanks to machining, and with its anti-drop feature, you can leave the line hanging.

Born from personal experience, this speargun packs every feature a pleasure boat owner targeting big game could want.

Now, grab the ultimate speargun and head out for a romantic fishing adventure.
